

RICHARD CARVATH – Prospective Independent MP for Salford and Eccles

Richard Carvath 2010 General Election Manifesto – TEN COMMITMENTS

1 I will uphold the right to life of all people

YES to life – NO to abortion and euthanasia.

2 I will defend and promote marriage, the marriage-based family and parental rights

YES to heterosexuality and commitment – NO to promiscuity and perversion. YES to a married couples tax allowance. NO to divorce on demand. NO to all things homosexual.

3 I will protect children and campaign for real education

YES to traditional teaching of numeracy and literacy – NO to giving kids condoms and abortions.

4 I will work for a balanced economy in mixed private, public and mutual ownership

YES to rebuilding the British manufacturing base.

5 I will defend and promote British standards, British culture and British sovereignty

YES to traditional British standards of love and compassion balanced with truth and justice – NO to political correctness, secularism/humanism and sharia/islam. YES to defending British borders – NO to the EU. YES to genuine refugees – NO to economic migration.

6 I will campaign for social justice

YES to more and better social housing with locals prioritised. YES to good pensions and dignity for the elderly. YES to tax exemption for the poorest. YES to a higher Carer Allowance and National Minimum Wage. YES to charities. YES to welfare reform to encourage right and responsible behaviour and discourage wrong lifestyles.

7 I will work for economic responsibility and stability

YES to lowering the National Debt and slashing public sector waste while safeguarding frontline services – NO to bureaucracy. YES to lowering personal taxation and abolishing immoral taxes. YES to fewer quangos and government departments.

8 I will work for a better National Health Service

YES to a reformed NHS – NO to bureaucracy, rationing and counter-productive 'services' which only make public health worse.

9 I will fight to restore law, order and decency in our communities

YES to restoring capital punishment for murder. YES to banning prostitution and pornography. YES to alcohol licensing reform.

10 I will uphold integrity in public life

I'm in politics to serve people. I will only accept a National Minimum Wage salary. As MP for Salford and Eccles I will defend, encourage and advance the moral common good.

Richard Carvath, 33, lives and works in Salford. Richard went to Moorside High and Eccles College and he regularly attends local community meetings. He operates an industrial-cleaning business. Richard has 12 years of experience as a frontline social campaigner and political activist and undertakes local and national casework. As a writer and researcher Richard is the author of numerous book chapters and essays on a broad range of social and political issues. Richard is particularly noted for Pro-Life and Pro-Family activism and as a social justice and free speech champion. Outside politics Richard is into climbing, boxing and music. Richard is a Christian. www.richardcarvath.net
Printed and promoted by Richard Carvath of